Development of Broad-Toe Shoes for Children.

Now an important factor in Footwear for Juveniles. How the demand for a shoe built on hygienic principles has been met:

The toe-squeezing style of old were directly responsible for broad toe shoes getting into popularity. The old-fashioned style caused all kinds of trouble for the growing feet of children, by reason of the squeezing of their bones, which, like the rest of the children's bodies, are in a state of development, and which proper development of the foot is not permitted when they are pinched into shoes shaped entirely at variance with the form of the foot.

Our PLA-MATE nature shape shoes are made in strict accordance with the anatomy of the foot. See the shape.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FATE FOR FIVE CHINAMEN

SUPREME COURT OF MASSACHUSETTS REFUSES PLEA FOR NEW TRIAL TO PARTICIPANTS IN DEADLY TONG WAR, IN WHICH FOUR MONGOLIANS WERE KILLED.

(Special from United Press.)
Boston, May 21.--Death in the electric chair is the fate that faces five Chinamen held here for participation in a deadly Tong war, 1907, in which four of their fellows met death in Boston's Chinatown. The Supreme court has refused their plea for a new trial and the district attorney is to move for sentence at once.
The doomed men are Warry Charles, a well known interpreter and merchant, convicted of being an accessory to the murder before the fact; Min Sente, Hom Woon, Leong Jong and Joe Quey convicted of murder in the first degree. The tragedy was the result of an effort to make members of one society contribute financially to another society to which the convicted men belonged.

CAPTAIN PROUD OF MAURETANIA

New York, May 21.--In great good humor over the performance of his ship, the Mauretania, Captain John Pritchard to-day described the big steamer's record-breaking voyage which ended at Quarantine last night. The Mauretania clipped 13 minutes from her previous record, making the trip from Daunt's Rock to the Ambrose Channel light ship in 4 days, 16 hours and 53 minutes.

"We had a fine run," said Captain Pritchard, "with the exception of three hours of fog on the Banks when we reduced speed for three hours, the Mauretania has maintained an average speed of 35 knots an hour for nine consecutive trips. She is a great vessel and sails so easily that the pilots wonder at the prompt response of the great craft on turning or leaving port. I have stopped her in her own length and turned her about in the same distance in order to anchor and no vessel can do more. I do not believe any one knows the speed she can make."

The Mauretania made another record by coming up from Quarantine to her dock at 6:29 this morning earlier than ever before.

had been but said he was in good health and made no objection to going to the Waverly Institution.

Bank President Gets Six Years

Biggest Battleships Building for Italy

PURE BLOOD

THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION--HOW TO ATTAIN IT

Sufferers are beginning to realize that external applications will not rid the skin of the disfigurements of eczema, pimples, blackheads, rashes, etc. The remedy must go deeper, to the seat of the trouble--the blood.

And it is for this reason that the preparation known as Dr. Taylor's Remedy has been so successful, and has become so widely known and used. This really great blood purifier absolutely destroys all the poisonous germs in the system, that cause skin blemishes. Its quick and thorough action, in even the worst cases of eczema, has surprised and delighted an enormous number of patients who had despaired of relief under the ordinary treatment of physicians and "so-called" remedies. The record of Dr. Taylor's Remedy is therefore one of unfailing success, and in its use is surely found the secret of a clear, beautiful complexion.

An illustrated booklet describing the remedy will be mailed free by the Dr. Taylor Remedy Co., Philadelphia, and the remedy itself and booklet can be obtained at Jennie Hamilton's Pharmacy, Bridgeport, Conn., and at all first-class druggists.

Bluebeard.

"Who was the original Bluebeard?" asks a writer in the London Chronicle. He continues: "We owe the familiar Bluebeard of the pantomime to Charles Perrault, the Frenchman who published in 1696-97 his immortal stories of 'Bluebeard,' 'The Sleeping Beauty,' 'Little Red Riding Hood' and 'Cinderella.' But it is very uncertain who, if anybody, was Perrault's model for Bluebeard. Some have supposed that it was our Henry VIII., others that the tale is a lampoon upon the castle lords of knight errantry days in general. Perhaps the favorite candidate has been Gilles de Rais, marshal of France, who was hanged and burned in 1440 for an awful series of crimes. During fourteen years he was believed to have kidnapped about 150 children, tortured them, sacrificed them to the devil, burned their bodies and buried their bones in his castle grounds. But the resemblance between his tale and Bluebeard's is too slight to be convincing."

An Unmarried Widow.

It would appear that the standard of happiness of at least one African widow in Manhattan had reached high water mark, judging by this advertisement published a few days ago:

Widow, colored, age 34, with high school training, vocalist, excellent cook, desires a husband same age or younger; awful extremely fair, clean, sober, moral and never been married. Address WIDOW.

The following personal, printed in a metropolitan newspaper the other day, deserves a class by itself:

A European gentleman wishes to meet an American who is the typical daughter of all that is most admirable in our age; one gifted with the bold frankness of understanding, the enthusiasm of expectancy, the merry cheerfulness of superiority, the physical and physical alertness of those of tomorrow; the worldly independence of this optimist must be duplicated; view, matrimony.

Knives For Brides.

The custom of giving knives to brides was formerly a common practice, when it was fashionable for women to wear knives sheathed and suspended from their girdles. A wedding offered an opportunity of presenting something novel or ornamental in the cutlery line, and frequent reference to such presents occurs in the plays of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. In the "Witch of Edmonton," 1648, for instance, the bride is described as wearing "the new pair of Sheffield knives, fitted to one sheath." A list of trinkets usually worn by ladies about 1590 includes girdles, knives, purses and pin cases. In Dekker's "Match Me In London," 1631, the bride says to her jealous husband:

"See, at my girdle hang my wedding knives; With these dispatch me."

Indignation.

Law Notes relates that Albert E. Pillsbury, former attorney general of Massachusetts, on visiting the birthplace of Horace Greeley in Amherst, N. H., noticed that there was no placard about the place to inform the public of its historical interest. Accordingly he himself tacked on the house a card which read: "This is the birthplace of Horace Greeley." While he was engaged at this task a passing native paused to read the card, and, turning to Mr. Pillsbury, he remarked with some acidity: "The gall of some of you fellows that here have made money in the city is fairly sick'nin'. What do you suppose folks here care whether you was born on this farm or some other farm? Them's my sentiments Mr. Greeley, and don't you forget it!"

Accomplishments.

Muggins--My daughter will be a great catch for some one. She can cook or write poetry with equal ease and effectiveness. Juggins--Well, my daughter can write poetry. I never saw her try to cook it, but I'll bet she could.--Cleveland Leader.

Diamond Cut Diamond.

"This is a hard world," growled the chronic kicker.

"That's what?" replied the observant man. "The only thing with which you can make an impression on it is 'rucks.'"--Exchange.

Missing Harvard Instructor Returns

Boston, May 21.--Dr. Percy Hutchinson, the Harvard instructor who fled from the New England Sanitarium at Melrose Monday night, is to-day an inmate of the McLean Sanitarium at Waverly, Mass. Dr. Hutchinson returned of his own free will, fearing that his mother and wife would be distressed by grief and worry. He was unable to tell clearly where he
